Good morning Bob

I was checking with you to see how the last access agreements were coming along. Are we still on schedule to start sampling the week of Sep 9 and can you send a map with the proposed monitor wells locations to share with others here in the office? I sent the lab request forms to the Houston Lab last week and have not heard back from them yet, have they contacted you by chance and if not do I need to check on the status of our request for analytical services. When we are certain about our start date and schedule, I would like to see about having a meeting either at your office or EPA's to go over the sampling event.

Thanks
